Message from Rabbi Rosenberg

Each holiday in the Jewish year offers a wellspring of meaning to us. Our major festivals teach lessons through their agricultural themes, their historical realities, as well as through their theological underpinnings. Passover, which we will celebrate from April 3-11 this year, for example, celebrates the first harvest, links us to the historical realities of the Exodus from Egypt and theologically orients us towards the themes of freedom and redemption. Most of us are familiar with these themes and we engage with one, two or all of them in our celebration of the holiday. What is nice is that most Jews draw some level of meaning from each of our three major festivals, Passover, Shavuot and Sukkot. What about our minor festivals? Interestingly, the same thematic messaging is found in these holidays as well.

Consider Purim, which we celebrate beginning Wednesday evening, March 4. Purim is more than just a fun-filled time for noise and revelry. Purim also teaches some very timely historical and theological lessons.

Watching our world these past months, the events in Europe, South America, Israel and even here in America place us on alert because of increased anti-Semitism. Today, as we all know, America, Europe, South America, Africa and Israel sadly share a common understanding of the evil of terrorism that plagues the Free World. Our world is tense and with cause. Then Purim appears on the calendar, a holiday whose message could not be timelier.

One lesson that emerges from the Megillah is the imperative to fight for one's own defense. Evil people – the spiritual heirs of Haman – are willing to scapegoat the Jews in every age, blaming us for inflation, communism, capitalism, war, peace, or anything else they oppose. Alone among the nations of the world, Israel is the only country whose enemies want to get rid of it and its civilians entirely, rather than simply disputing a territorial claim or a particular policy.

The irrational and obsessive nature of anti-Semitism is as true today as it was in the days of Haman. And what brought Haman down was the resolve of the Jews to stand up for themselves and to assert their own interests publicly and without apology. We, too, must recognize what's in our own interest – a vital and democratic State of Israel, a vital and democratic United States of America and for that matter all countries that are proponents of religious tolerance and freedom. The freedom and safety of the world's Jews depends on this.

Now more than ever, is the time for us to learn this critical message of Purim. Now we must stand up and be heard as we promote the ideals of liberty and freedom for all. As we defend our rights as Jews, as citizens of America, as supporters of religious tolerance everywhere and as supporters of Israel to defeat the evil in our world. I hope that this message of Purim is heard clearly by Jews this year, so that we as a community can support each other, and go from strength to greater strength.

Purim may be defined as a minor festival, but its message is major in every sense.

Come relax and enjoy Shabbat together

PASSOVER . . .

Kashrut for Pesah

Following is a summary of the decisions of the Committee on Jewish Law and Standards (CJLS) of the Rabbinical Assembly pertaining to Passover foods, dishes, and utensils. Kosher le-Pesah labels that do not bear the name of a rabbi or one of the recognized symbols of rabbinic supervision, or which are not integral to the package, should not be used without consulting your rabbi.

Prohibited foods include the following: leavened bread, cakes, biscuits, crackers, cereal, coffees containing cereal derivatives, wheat, barley, oats spelt, rye, and all liquids containing ingredients or flavors made from grain alcohol.

Most Ashkenazic authorities have added the following foods (kitniyot) to the above list: rice, corn, millet, legumes (beans and peas; however, string beans are permitted). The CJLS has ruled unanimously that peanuts and peanut oil are permissible. Some Ashkenazic authorities permit, while others forbid, the use of legumes in a form other than their natural state, for example: corn sweeteners, corn oil, soy oil. Sephardic authorities permit the use of all of the above. Consult a member of the clergy for guidance in the use of these products.

PERMITTED FOODS: A. The following foods require a kosher le-Pesah label if purchased before or during Pesah: all baked products (matzah, cakes, matzah flour, farfel, matzah meal, and any products containing matzah); canned or bottled fruit juices (These juices are often clarified with kitniyot which are not listed among the ingredients. However, if one knows there are no such agents, the juice may be purchased prior to Pesah without a kosher le-Pesah label); wine; vinegar; liquor; oils; dried fruits; candy; chocolate flavored milk; ice cream; yogurt, and soda.

B. The following processed foods (canned, bottled or frozen) require a kosher le-Pesah label if purchased during Pesah: milk, butter, juices, milk products, spices, coffee, tea, and fish, as well as all foods listed in Category C.

C. The following foods require no kosher le-Pesah label if purchased prior to Pesah: unopened packages or containers of natural coffee without cereal additives (however, be aware that coffees produced by General Foods are not kosher for Passover unless marked KP); sugar, pure tea (not herbal tea); salt; pepper, natural spices; frozen fruit juices with no additives; frozen (uncooked) vegetables (for legumes see above); milk; butter; cottage cheese; frozen (uncooked) fruit (with no additives).

D. The following foods require no kosher le-Pesah label if purchased before or during Pesah: fresh fruits and vegetables (for legumes see above), eggs, fresh fish, and fresh meat.

DETERGENTS: If permitted during the year, powdered and liquid detergents do not require a kosher le-Pesah label.

MEDICINE: Since hametz binders are used in many pills, the following guidelines should be followed: if the medicine is required for life sustaining therapy, it may be used on Pesah. If it is not for life sustaining therapy, some authorities permit, while others prohibit. Consult the clergy. In all cases, capsules are preferable to pills.

KASHERING OF UTENSILS: The process of kashering utensils depends on how the utensils are used. According to halakhah, leaven can be purged from a utensil by the same process in which it was absorbed in the utensil. Therefore, utensils used in cooking are kashered by boiling, those used in broiling are kashered by fire and heat, and those used only for cold food are kashered by rinsing.

A. EARTHENWARE (china, pottery, etc.) may not be kashered. However, fine translucent chinaware which has not been used for over a year may be used if scoured and cleaned in hot water.

B. METAL (wholly made of metal) UTENSILS USED IN FIRE (spit, broiler) must first be thoroughly scrubbed and cleansed and then made as hot as possible. Those used for cooking or eating (silverware, pots) must be thoroughly scrubbed and cleaned and completely immersed in boiling water. Pots should not be used for a period of at least 24 hours between the cleaning and the immersion in boiling water. Metal baking utensils cannot be kashered.

C. OVENS AND RANGES: Every part that comes in contact with food must be thoroughly scrubbed and cleaned. Then, oven and range should be heated as hot as possible for a half hour. If there is a broil setting, use it. Self-cleaning ovens should be put through the self-cleaning cycle according to the manufacturer's instructions. Continuous cleaning ovens must be kashered in the same manner as regular ovens.

Microwave ovens, which do not cook the food by means of heat, should be cleaned, and then two cups of water should be placed inside. Then turn the oven on until one cup of water has boiled away. A microwave oven that has a browning element cannot be kashered for Pesah.

D. GLASSWARE: Authorities disagree as to the method for kashering drinking utensils. One opinion requires soaking in water for three days, changing the water every 24 hours. The other opinion requires only a thorough scrubbing before Pesah, or putting them through a dishwasher.

Glass cookware: There is a difference of opinion as to whether this item must be kashered. One opinion is that it must be kashered. After a thorough cleansing, there should be water boiled in it, which will overflow the rim. The other opinion is that only a thorough cleansing is required. Glass bakeware, like metal bakeware, may not be kashered.

E. DISHWASHER: After not using the machine for a period of 24 hours, a full cycle with detergent should be run.

F. ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES: If the parts that come into contact with hametz are removable, they can be kashered in the appropriate way (if metal, follow the rules for metal utensils). If the parts are not removable, the appliance cannot be kashered. (All exposed parts should be thoroughly cleaned.)

G. TABLES, CLOSETS, AND COUNTERS: If used with hametz, they should be thoroughly cleaned and covered, and then they may be used.

H. KITCHEN SINK: A metal sink can be kashered by thoroughly cleaning and then pouring boiling water over it. A porcelain sink should be cleaned and a sink rack used. If, however, dishes are to be soaked in a porcelain sink, a dish basin must be used.

I. HAMETZ AND NON-PASSOVER UTENSILS: Non-Passover dishes, pots, and hametz whose ownership has been transferred, should be separated, locked up or covered, and marked in order to prevent accidental use.

מכירת חמץ

Sell Your Hametz

An integral part of the pre-Passover planning involves the selling of one's hametz. The Torah enjoins us to rid ourselves from all hametz and utensils which have been used during the course of the year. There is no actual transfer of property. It is purely a symbolic procedure. You allow your hametz and utensils to be sold to a non-Jew. In this manner, the Biblical injunction is fulfilled.

In order to facilitate the proceedings, kindly complete the form below and return it to the synagogue office.

I will sell your hametz on your behalf and in that way you will fulfill the Torah commandment.

Let me take this opportunity, while well in advance, to wish you and yours an enjoyable and happy Passover.

Rabbi Robert Alpert, Ritual Director

I hereby authorize Rabbi Robert Alpert to sell my hametz. I understand that the hametz will no longer be in my possession from Friday, April 3 at 10:00 AM until Saturday, April 11 at 8:30 PM.

EDUCATION . . .

The Intersection of Joy and Giving

Message from Rabbi Nogah Marshall, Educational Director

It's very easy to be caught up in the celebratory culture of Purim. We have every reason to be joyful. Not every day do the good guys triumph over evil. So let's drink and eat, be merry, dress up, shake those groggers, and perform our Purim parodies. But even in our unlimited joy there is a recognition. It's not just about us, rather, we have an obligation to those around us. Joy is not selfish. Joy is to be shared and distributed. Sometimes the act of giving is more heart-warming and joyful than that of receiving.

Thus on Purim there is a Jewish imperative of Matanot Levyonim, distributing gifts to the poor. We have the potential to bring salvation and redemption. We have within us the resources to make life better for a lot of people.

As part of our ROUTE 613 program we offer a course called, 'Mitzvah.' In this class, taught by Karen Kripke, our students engage Jewish texts about tikkun olam (fixing the world) gemilut hasadim (acts of loving kindness) and mitzvah, in helping to solve conflicts, tensions, and inequalities. After each session, our students commit to a specific hands-on pragmatic project/solution that benefits both Har Zion Temple and the larger world.

For the first part of the year our students learned about Maimonides, Rambam, and his ladder of Tzedakah/Giving, the eight rungs. In December, our students created Hanukkah gift packages and personal cards that were given to the residents of the Saunders House with love and joy. For Purim, our students will be making delicious sandwiches, with ingredients of love and empathy with a touch of happiness, that will be distributed to a homeless shelter. And of course, we will be creating masks and groggers for the residents of the Saunders House. Our students in the Mitzvah class have truly brought joy and happiness to many members of our greater community, and we are so grateful to them.

The world today is not always kind. There is a lot of pain, hurt, disappointment and frustration. Things seem so out of control. It is so easy to wallow in hopelessness and powerlessness. But along comes Purim and it reminds us about possibility and requirement; we can be both a source and a messenger of joy and goodness.

Join us in celebration for Purim. Join us to listen to the words of the Megillah, scream, shout, celebrate, laugh, and become a partner with our students in our collective statement to pay it forward.

The Kotzker Rebbe once said, "There are three ways in which a person can go without performing a good deed, if they say: I shall do it soon, the way is poor. If they say I am ready to do it now: the way is of average quality. If they say, I am doing it: that way is praise-worthy."

Chag Purim Sameah.

USY has been having a fantastic winter. Lazer Tag was amazing! We ran around and tagged each other for hours. Seeing our friends from Ohev Shalom, TBH-BE and Adath Israel made the experience even sweeter. January's special event was hilarious. Comedy Sportz kept us laughing the whole night. Stopping for gelato was the perfect end to the evening.

Are You Ready for a Family Vacation?

Message from Debbie Folz,
Early Childhood Education Director

Do you remember family vacations? As spring break is a few weeks away, I thought about the many trips I took with my family. Some of my most memorable times are the trips Bob and I took to Florida, Mexico, Jamaica and Israel with our two children. Vacations are an opportunity to build a sense of family togetherness without the pressures of everyday life. Where the family goes and how long they stay, is not important, but the best vacations are planned around the interests and the developmental levels of children.

When planning a trip with young children, remember that they need and like routine. A family should keep naptime, mealtimes, and bedtimes as close to the normal routine as possible. It also helps when the itinerary is discussed so that kids know what to expect.

The family that travels with preschoolers should consider this age group's self-centeredness, short attention span and need for movement. Children at age 3 or 4 make good travelers, though. They enjoy physical activity, quiet playtime, arts and crafts, and most of what parents suggest. They also enjoy exploring and talking about their observations and experiences. Traveling with this age group does present some challenges. A survival kit helps minimize irritability and crankiness during long hours of driving. Starting at ages three and six, my husband and I started driving to and from Florida two, sometimes, three times a year. On our way to south Florida we would spend a day in Washington D.C., Savannah, Richmond and Jacksonville. We did go to Disney World, but most of the time we visited their grandparents. Yes, there was some arguing between the two of them, and sometimes, I must admit, I got a little cranky, too! However if you pack healthy snacks, storybooks, crayons, markers, paper, games and their favorite songs on an i-pod there will be peace.

By preplanning your vacation, ensuring some routine, yet allowing for flexibility, everyone in your family can enjoy the adventure. I know the Folz family did!!

SISTERHOOD . . .

Getting to Know Your Sisters

By Norma Dworkin, Sisterhood Co-President

This month I interviewed Jean Clemons.

Jean has always loved languages and words. In Springfield, Delaware County, where she grew up with a younger sister, she took Russian, French, and Latin in high school. She went on to the University of Pennsylvania and graduated with a BA in Russian language and literature. After teaching Russian and English at a high school in NJ for 10 years, she returned to Penn and received a Wharton MBA in marketing. She then worked in marketing in the corporate headquarters of Nabisco and Sterling Drug, returning to this area to work for Campbell's Soup.

Jean was married for 27 years, but is currently single. Jean's daughter, Julia, graduated as valedictorian from Hariton HS in 2007 and Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Chicago in 2011. She is currently working as a policy and program analyst in Washington, DC for FEMA.

Jean came to Har Zion Temple when Julia started Hebrew school almost 20 years ago. While Julia was studying and preparing for her Bat Mitzvah, Jean also learned and studied with a group of women and proudly became a Bat Mitzvah in 2001.

Presently, Jean is teaching management communication to MBA students at the Wharton School and is also a consultant to executives. Additionally, she teaches Russian to elementary school students and gives private lessons. Jean loves giving back to her community as well, and has volunteered for 19 years, at the Klein Branch JCC teaching English to Russian immigrants.

Favorites:

Book - Jean is an avid reader and loves all fiction, especially Russian literature. Her favorite authors are Dostoevsky and Tolstoy.

Movie - Her favorite of all time is an old black and white silent Russian film from 1925 called "Battleship Potemkin." It is famous for a montage sequence referred to as the "Odessa Steps" in which a runaway baby carriage with an infant was filmed rolling down a series of steps. A current favorite is "The Grand Budapest Hotel" for its zaniness.

Hobbies - Jean enjoys aerobic dance and participates in many different social clubs including French conversation, hiking, a book club, and several women's groups. She enjoys music, especially classical. Her favorite is Beethoven's 7th Symphony. Other interests include: art, visiting museums, baking for friends, languages, and word origins.

Of all Jean's favorites, travel is her greatest joy! She has traveled extensively throughout the States (including Hawaii), Europe, Russia, Australia and Asia. Also, she has been to Egypt and Israel. She hopes to one day add South America and other countries in Africa to this list.

Something others may not know about -

A special trip that Jean embarked on last summer was to Baku, Azerbaijan. Jean and a friend, both Russian speakers, wanted to visit a different culture and speak Russian there. Although

MEN'S CLUB . . .

Har Zion Men's Club
We've Got It Covered

Resurrecting Words

Message from

Doug Sayer and Jack Marine,
Men's Club Co-Presidents

By the time you read this, our big winter activity, Men's Club Shabbat, will have taken place. We will have run all of the services and enjoyed the participation as much as those attending services. We particularly appreciate the support of the more than 100 guests at our Friday night Shabbat dinner.

In preparing to write this article, we thought it prudent to review previous Men's Club articles published at this time; to reflect on others' words as they themselves reflected on the coming of Spring and Pesah. A few articles written by past Men's Club Presidents stood out to us among the rest. We found many of their words resonating with us still, many of their concepts are as relevant as ever. In keeping with the theme, "if it's not broken, don't fix it," we have included excerpts from those powerful articles, entitled here:

"With the coming of Spring we are reminded that Pesah will be here soon as well. It is a time for renewal, a time to bring out the best in ourselves.

"Although we ask the same questions every year, we wait as children to hear the answers of freedom and hope for peace 'next year in Jerusalem.'

"As the youngest child asks, "Why is this night different from all other nights," the bond between generations is formed and the chapters in the book of our lives are written. As we experience both the spiritual and physical aspects of Passover, let us work hard to instill only positive memories for our children. Let us always make room for others to share the experience of true freedom. As humans, we were created not to be alone but blessed with the gift of friendship and love.

"As a Men's Club member I am blessed with the gift of friendship and love. Our members convene and hear reports, discuss and adopt projects, explore resources and finances, and study and learn. The chairmen of our various events are oftentimes the busiest workers of the congregation. They are prepared to work throughout the year for the benefit of the synagogue, the Jewish community, and for society as a whole. In fulfillment of one of the fundamental Jewish duties, our men dedicated themselves to the never-completed talk of helping others.

"We help and support running of the library, Yom Hashoah candle delivery, Torah restoration, and Tisch every Friday after morning Minyan. Please come on Friday mornings for just over an hour, have breakfast and learn. It's a good way to end the week and a great way to start a day. Breakfast is sponsored by Men's Club and various others who wish to mark an occasion - come and enjoy.

"I urge the men of Har Zion who have not experienced the Men's Club to get a taste. Come to a meeting or an event. Be a mench; set the example for your son or daughter to be involved in Jewish life. Men's Club - fun that is rewarding!"

recommend places to eat and visit. They toured the old city with its ancient palaces, monuments, the Maiden Tower, and numerous mosques. In the new city, they toured art, historical and carpet museums.

They also visited two relatively new synagogues. There are about 30,000 Jews residing there who are being educated by Israeli and American organizations. The synagogues have been warmly received by representatives of the Russian Orthodox Church and the Muslim community. An interest in international adoption led to a visit to an orphanage, primarily for children with special needs. This visit was difficult, although the children were well taken care of and the officials were very gracious and welcoming. A special treat and highlight of the trip was an invitation to the American Embassy's 4th of July party. Coincidentally, a woman that Jean knows from Gladwyne is a friend of the American ambassador and arranged an introduction. Although there were no fireworks, it was an extremely grand and memorable event!

I truly enjoyed talking with Jean. I hope you will also be enlightened by the many facets of her personality. Thank you Jean, for sharing your story with us!

Thank you to all of my family and friends for their good wishes for my speedy recovery. Thank you so much!

Saving a Culture from Extinction

By Gerald Spector

Three-quarters of a century ago, Nazi Germany, aided and abetted by anti-Semites in other European countries, undertook a program to exterminate the Jewish people and eradicate every vestige of its culture. People, books, paintings, sculptures, music, buildings, anything that might be considered Jewish, were to be burned or otherwise destroyed. Thank God, they did not succeed. Even though six million Jews were killed, our people survived and are flourishing. However, Jewish culture, particularly Yiddish culture, came perilously close to the brink of extinction.

In the 1940s, in the Bronx neighborhood where I was born and raised, nearly everyone spoke Yiddish. Today, most Jews do not speak or understand Yiddish. New York had four major Yiddish secular daily newspapers. Today, only the Forward survives on the internet as a Yiddish language daily. Radio programs in Yiddish could be heard around the clock over several stations. Today, Yiddish radio is virtually non-existent. In addition to Second Avenue in Manhattan, (the "Yiddish Broadway") Yiddish theatrical productions could be seen on several stages in the Bronx and Brooklyn. Today, except for an occasional full stage production by the Folksbiene, Yiddish theater is rare. Few Jews are conversant with Yiddish literature or are even aware of its broad scope.

The decline of Yiddish culture is not unique to America. Because its founding fathers considered Yiddish to be a language of the Diaspora and desired to quickly assimilate the influx of immigrants from all over the world into a unified society, the State of Israel actively discouraged the use of Yiddish.

In 1980, a young graduate student embarked on a journey to reverse this trend. On Wednesday, March 18, the Har Zion Active Adults Club (HAZAAC) will present his story and the history and achievements of the unique institution he created that has miraculously managed to preserve and revive what are arguably the two most significant characteristics of Yiddish culture, its language and literature.

This event includes a luncheon and is free for HAZAAC members who have paid annual dues. Everyone else is invited to attend at $15.00 per person for lunch and program. Lunch will be at 11:30 AM with program to follow at 1:00 PM. Please call Harriet Schiffer at 610-667-5000 by Friday, March 13, to make reservations for lunch.

Guess Who's Coming to Shabbas?

April 17-18

Our relaunch of GWC2S was a great success! Shabbat meals were enjoyed and relationships were deepened and enhanced using the power of Shabbat and community.

Please let us know if you will join us as a host or guest by emailing us at guesswhoscoming2shabbat@gmail.com. We will confirm your participation and send you directions for the next steps.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact Rabbi Allen, Hannah Bookbinder or Cindy Reisner at guesswhoscoming2shabbat@gmail.com.

Together we can make this a success for our synagogue community.
