

When was the last time you read a book that left you breathless?

This book follows a trail from a singles' cocktail hour in Manhattan, to Soviet Russia in the 1920s, to Vietnam in the 70s to New Jersey today. It interweaves mystery, Jewish folklore, history and scripture in a breathtaking collision.

Author Dara Horn nestles stories within stories, revealing the fears, truth, falseness and beauty of this world and the one to come.

One Book, Two Nights

Entertainment Weekly calls The World to Come "nothing short of amazing". You can decide for yourself. Copies are available from your synagogue (check with the office or KLM representative), the JCC or KLM (see contact info below) for $12. Then come to these two events:

Night #1. Monday, November 13 at 7 pm.
Come hear historian Barbara Blinder talk about the life and work of Marc Chagall, as well as the problem of looted art.

Night #2. Monday, November 20 at 7 pm.
Don't miss the opportunity to hear and meet author Dara Horn. There will also be a Q & A and book signing.

Both programs are free and are at Temple Beth Hillel-Beth El
1001 Remington Road, Wynnewood

Dara Horn received her Ph.D. in comparative literature from Harvard in 2006, studying Yiddish and Hebrew. Her first book, In the Image, was awarded the 2003 National Jewish Book Award and the 2003 Reform Judaism Fiction prize.
