INNOVATION UPDATE FROM

Israeli doctors implant Syrian man with titanium jaw in pioneering procedure

This week, a Syrian man received a pioneering jaw implant made from titanium after a bullet wound in his country's civil war completely destroyed his lower jaw, leaving him unable to either speak or eat. The procedure was performed at the Rambam Medical Center in Haifa, using a customized artificial jawbone created on a 3D printer. The dental implant company that manufactures the implants – Ashdod-based AB Dental – provided the Syrian man with the metal "bone" at no charge. In the procedure, doctors created a jaw perfectly suited to the patient – essentially, a custom-made replacement part.

Friday Evening Study

Song of Songs 5:2-3

I am asleep;
my heart is awake –

my sister, my love,
my dove, my perfection,
for my head is covered with dew,
my locks with fragments of the night”

*I have taken off my dress,
how can I put it on again?

how can I dirty them?*
