Herbert D. Katz Center
for Advanced Judaic Studies
UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Step back and take the long view on politics next month with the election season behind us. This year's Katz Center fellows are focused on the political ideas, traditions, and movements formed by Jews and Jewish cultures over millennia. In November, you can hear them speak on a range of subjects including the U.S. Constitution, prejudice and contagion in the 18th century, and the German-Jewish encounter today.

FEATURED PROGRAM – Presented in partnership with the National Constitution Center
Is the Constitution “Judeo-Christian”?

Monday, November 21, 12 PM

It is commonplace, particularly in discussions about religious liberty, to describe the Constitution as “Judeo-Christian” in its origins—but is this a meaningful or accurate description? What does the religious context of its framing mean for the Constitution as a document meant to endure?

Professors Menachem Lorberbaum of the Katz Center and Tel Aviv University, Michael Moreland of Villanova University, and Suzanne Last Stone of the Cardozo School of Law discuss the development and context of the Constitution to explore its relationship to the Jewish and Christian traditions. Michael Gerhardt, National Constitution Center scholar-in-residence, moderates.

National Constitution Center, 525 Arch Street, Philadelphia, PA

Admission is free but registration is requested via www.constitutioncenter.org.

When the voice of the cantor, who died in 1943, suddenly booms forth from the walls, it’s clear that this ghost is protesting the spoils of gentrification. And he won’t go away!

Philadelphia Food Distributions

One Sunday each month, 750-1,000+ volunteers of all ages and backgrounds meet as a community at our Northeast Philadelphia warehouse, located at 10980 Dutton Road, Philadelphia, 19154. These volunteers pack fresh produce and non-perishable kosher food, load their cars with boxes, and deliver food and a smile into the homes of those in need. This is a great way to fulfill your community service requirements for school or work. Community service forms are available at each of our food distributions. Box packing takes place from 10 - 11:30 AM, followed by food delivery. Early risers are welcome to help make boxes and bag fresh produce (no produce during the summer) between 8:30 - 10 AM. Just be sure to wear closed toe shoes while in the warehouse, as sandals are not permitted. Looking to volunteer later in the day or short on time? Food boxes can be picked up for delivery from 8:30 AM to 3 PM. Most delivery routes consist of 8-12 boxes and typically take about an hour to complete. Driving directions and a map are provided.

To volunteer, sign up for our email list (where you will receive an email prior to each distribution that will contain a link that you can use to register directly for that food distribution), email jra@jewishrelief.org, or call 610-660-0190 x104.
