INNOVATION UPDATE FROM ISRAEL IDEAS New Israeli Hybrid Energy System For Third World Countries

I love solar power. There's only one problem...it doesn't work at night! Other than that small issue, I figure most of the developing world would be using it. Israeli energy tech company AORA has a solution, one that might just work; a hybrid system – one that maximizes the energy provided by the sun, but also supplements it with a "backup" system to keep power flowing when the sun goes down...and, does so cheaply. For more information: <http://www.israelideas.org/#!New-Israeli-Hybrid-Energy-System-For-Third-World-Countries/c14g0/6C2AE4FB-13AD-4-BFD-B952-E330D5964129>

Can you volunteer and help us out??

Friday Evening Study

Song of Songs 3:9-11

King Solomon built a palace of Lebanon wood;

He plated the pillars with silver, made the pillows of gold;
his couch is purple silk,
and all the space is lined with love
by the daughters of Jerusalem.

Go out and see, daughters of Zion,
Look at Solomon the King in the crown his mother gave to him on this his wedding day, on the day his heart rejoiced.
