Technology Utilizing Smart Materials to Make "Smart" Compression Stocking

About 40 percent of all adults suffer chronic venous insufficiency, causing pain, swelling, ulcers, varicose veins and spider veins as blood pools in their legs. A common reason for chronic venous insufficiency is deep vein thrombosis (DVT), which puts 600,000 Americans in the hospital each year. It is considered the leading causes of preventable death. In addition, three million Americans suffer leg swelling from chronic lymphedema caused by surgery and cancer treatment.

Seeing a huge unmet need in the area of medical compression stockings, Israeli electrical engineer and self-described tech junkie Omer Zelka jumped in to fill it. Zelka's startup, ElastiMed, developed a "smart" medical compression stocking made from a low-cost polymer that stretches and contracts to stimulate blood flow via an electric pulse generated by a 3V battery.

Engaging Jerusalem

“If I forget thee, O Jerusalem...”

Jerusalem has captured the imagination of Jews for centuries. It’s the direction to which we pray, it’s the aspiration of centuries of dreamers, it holds hope and promise for many.

In honor of the 50th anniversary of the Six Day War, Har Zion will engage our kehillah in a celebration of our eternal city of hope. Over the next eight months, we will explore the diverse role Jerusalem has played for us as a people from biblical times to present day.

Each month has been assigned a verb that will guide our exploration. We will offer opportunities both within our regular class schedule and through special programs to explore Jerusalem in all of her diversity, struggles, and glory.

February is dedicated to Singing Jerusalem. The number of songs about Jerusalem is nearly endless since the themes of the holiness and centrality of Jerusalem, returning to Zion and longing for Jerusalem have been a part of Jewish literature since Biblical times.

Undoubtedly, for the past 50 years the most well-known song about Jerusalem is Yerushalayim Shel Zahav, Jerusalem of Gold. Many people even know the something about its origins. Written by “the first lady of Israeli song and poetry,” Naomi Shemer, it was commissioned by Jerusalem mayor Teddy Kollek for the Israel Song Festival in May of 1967. It describes the Jewish people’s 2000 year old longing to return to Jerusalem. After the Six-Day War a verse was added to celebrate the reunification of Jerusalem. Yerushalyim Shel Zahav has often been called the unofficial national anthem of the State of Israel.

Ami Yares: A Celebration of the Songs of Jerusalem

Sunday, February 26, 10:45 AM during Market Mania

FREE – Open to the community

CDs will be available for purchase after the performance

Before and after the concert, Ami will be doing workshops in classrooms with students.

About the performer:

The MUSIC hails from the east and west, rooted in the sounds of a pastoral upbringing in the sprawling suburbs of the Garden State juxtaposed against the sounds, stories, and struggles of the seaside city of Jaffa.

The MUSICIAN simply wants to move you with music. Ami (pronounced AH-mee) has been described as “a cross between Randy Newman and David Broza. He has traveled all over the world and spent a significant amount of time using music to build peace and promote social change.

The EDUCATOR uses music as a lens to understand society, culture and ultimately, ourselves. It is not only a passion to Ami but an obligation to embolden music in powerful and transformative educational experiences.

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 26 HAR ZION TEMPLE IS THE PLACE TO BE!

CHANAN TIGAY – The Lost Book of Moses: The Hunt for the World's Oldest Bible

In 1883, archaeological and treasure hunter Moses Wilhelm Shapira claimed to have discovered the world's oldest Bible scroll. Denounced as fake by a French archaeologist, it seemed that was the end of the story until investigators reopened the case in 1947, wondering whether Shapira had discovered the first Dead Sea Scroll decades before the rest.

$5 in advance/$8 day of event – For more information, openabook@harziontemple.org or 610-667-5000. To register online, harziontemple.ticketleap.com. Sponsorship opportunities are still available.
