INNOVATION UPDATE FROM ISRAEL IDEAS

Extending Battery Life In 150 Million Phones

While the ideal smartphone would be thin, light and affordable, and have an ultra-long-lasting battery, we cannot have it all — at least not until a cheap, long-lasting, featherweight battery is invented. In the meantime, Lucidlogix Technologies is solving this puzzle with a software solution called PowerXtend.

"Built into more than 150 million licensed Android devices, PowerXtend makes your phone battery last up to 20 percent longer when you're using the most battery-draining graphical applications: chatting, gaming, multimedia browsing and navigating. In addition to extending battery life, PowerXtend also reduces the amount of heat released from the device during graphics-heavy uses like Waze," says Lucidlogix CEO and Chairperson, Adina Shorr.
