You will need to purchase the book for discussion purposes. You are still welcome to this session if you missed previous sessions. Due to the popularity of this class, it may be extended. For questions, please email Patty Grobman, pgrobman@harzientemple.org

INNOVATION UPDATE FROM ISRAEL IDEAS If The Shoe Fits, Consumers Will Buy More

Invertex, a Tel Aviv-based startup, is seeking to change the way people buy shoes. The company wants to digitize the process, using artificial intelligence and 3-D imaging technology to analyze users' feet in stores and to suggest models and sizes that would fit best. The software can also help with online shopping, enabling smartphones to scan feet via an app and making suggestions about what would be the best buy. "Today very few people buy their shoes online and the shoe return rates are crazy," said Invertex CEO David Bleicher. Shoe manufacturers and retailers Nike, Foot Locker and DSW for example, see on average one-third of their shoes shipped back, at their expense, he said. "We focus on a technology to help companies better match their products to their customer needs. This problem exists in eyewear and fashion in general," he said. "But the hardest problem is in footwear, and that is where we are focused today." To read more, go to: <http://www.israelideas.org/#!current/c1gqf>.

Engaging Jerusalem

April is Telling Jerusalem

"Jerusalem is a Port City on the shores of eternity" (Yehudah Amichai) – As we all recognize Jerusalem is a land-locked city so what kind of a port can it be? It is a metaphysical one that conveys the story of each traveler that visits its shores. Each journey's narrative is stored and awaits another pilgrim to carry it on to the next destination. In the month of April, we are asking you to share your Jerusalem Stories with us. Invite us into your journey and benefit from the adventures of others.
