 VLADIMIR SLEPAK
 TUESDAY, JUNE 16, 7:30 PM

Featured Speaker: Leonid Slepak
 Vladimir (Volodya) Slepak passed away in April. The Philadelphia community will gather to honor his memory and say thank you to this giant of a man. Vladimir was the heart and soul of the Soviet Jewry movement, and was recognized as the "father of the movement." He and his wife Masha finally arrived in Israel after 17 years of waiting.
 Let's come together to honor this simple, great man.

All are welcome.

Light reception to follow.

INNOVATION UPDATE FROM ISRAEL IDEAS Keeping Milk Fresh Without Electricity

For more than 1.5 billion people without adequate access to electricity, keeping milk fresh is an impossible battle. But Israeli researchers have found that short-pulsed electric fields can be used to kill milk-contaminating bacteria, thus making storing milk outside the refrigerator possible. Through a process called electroporation, bacterial cell membranes are selectively damaged. According to Tel Aviv University's lead investigator Dr. Alexander Golberg, applying this process intermittently prevents bacteria proliferation in stored milk, potentially increasing its shelf life.
