INNOVATION UPDATE FROM ISRAEL IDEAS

Say Goodbye To Zits, Without A Dermatologist Appointment

An Israeli father and son developed an iOS app that could help you achieve healthier skin without spending a fortune on acne treatment products and doctor appointments. MDacne was the idea of dermatologist Dr. Harth, who specializes in treating pimples. Together with his son Oded, a graduate of the IDF's elite 8200 technological unit, they bootstrapped the founding of MDAlgorithms and built what they say is the world's first dermatologist-based computerized acne analysis and acne treatment education system. The app analyzes a selfie to identify your acne type and severity, leads you through a customized 30-day treatment plan and monitors your progress. "There is a huge need," Dr. Harth explains. "There are half a billion people in the world who suffer from acne and most of them don't treat it, so we are here for them." To read more, go to: <http://www.israelideas.org/#!current/c1gqf>.
