INNOVATION UPDATE FROM ISRAEL IDEAS

Now, a Waze App For Walkers

The Israeli app Waze makes it easier for drivers across the world to bypass traffic and reach their destination quickly. Now there's Sidekix, an Israeli navigation app geared to people walking in cities. The iOS app shows walkers the best on-foot routes, even orienting the map as you move so you always know which way is forward. Per the website, it's the only navigation app that offers walking routes based on interest, not just distance.

It doesn't necessarily show you the straightest line from Point A to Point B because the free app customizes your routes based on preprogrammed interests in the categories of art, culture, shopping, nightlife and food. To read more, go to: <http://www.israelideas.org/#!current/c1gqf>.
